FROM YOUR EDITOR

Hello Fellow Members

I hope everyone is having a great summer and that you received your MD TAMS 45th Birthday Poker Chip.

IF YOU HAVE CHANGED YOUR MAILING ADDRESS PLEASE LET ME KNOW.

*Our Journal is doing fine but I can always use more articles.
Thanks Jane*

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

Once again, I would like to thank our Journal editor, Jane Sears, for running a special summer issue in July. In the Summer edition I outlined our club's current condition & invited members to provide ideas on how we could make our club more relevant. Unfortunately, only 2 members provided input. Aaron Packard, MD TAM's webmaster suggested our creating a Facebook page where we could provide up-to-date information & people could interact more easily. Also, Aaron suggested setting up a zoom network where members could engage in video meetings. Bob Carini, who lives in Louisville, KY also mentioned meeting remotely. It would be a good way for us to see & speak to each other. I confess a lack of technical knowledge but would appreciate anyone who would like to get these ideas put into motion.

I'd still like for us to have an actual physical meeting so I will be pursuing a meeting hall in the Annapolis area which will be more centrally located for our membership. If things go as planned the announcement of a time & place for a Spring meeting will be in the December/Winter issue of the Journal.

We are still urging our younger members to step-up into leadership roles. We all want to see MD TAMS reach its 50-year anniversary in 5 years, but this won't happen unless more people take an active role.

There was a mention in the special summer issue about Ed Craig's collection. The family wants to sell/ disperse everything relating to exonomia. The collection is extensive & unorganized. Ed acquired tons of collectables: tokens (metal, plastic, wood, food stamps, pogs, etc.), medals, elongates, encased coins, picker's checks, labels, poker chips, ephemera... We have been moving things out of Ed's house for over a month & still have about ½ of it to go (I'm running out of space to put it). While some things have been spoken for there's plenty left to go around. So please contact me if you are looking for anything special.

A local coin dealer last week told me that recently both the Salisbury & Cambridge Coin Clubs have folded. There are still shows in Cambridge thanks to Erick Windsor, but the clubs are gone. Let's not let this happen to MD TAMS.

“Maryland Merchant Tokens” – MD TAMS & David E. Schenkman 1986

According to Duffield this merchant operated a hotel at 19 N. Frederick St. from 1863 to 1868. The tokens were probably used in the hotel’s restaurant or saloon. In the late 1860’s Weil relocated to 222 Broadway St. where he sold liquors. (Duffield 151) Die maker Francis X. Koehler, Baltimore, MD.

Further research put Moritz H. Weil operating his tavern from 1862 to 1868 at 19 N. Frederick St. He was born in Neustadt, Mecklenburg-Schwerin and died in Baltimore on November 12, 1885

U.S. IRS TAX ASSESMENT LISTS 1863-1913

On July 1, 1862, Congress passed the Internal Revenue Act, creating the Bureau of Internal Revenue (later renamed to the Internal Revenue Service). This act was intended to “provide Internal Revenue to support the Government and to pay interest on the “Public Debt”. Instituted in the height of the Civil War, the “Public Debt” at the time primarily consisted of war expenses.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COURTS

20 February 1865 (Baltimore Sun) Criminal Court - Moritz Weil, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, (three counts,) was released on giving $1,500 bail - $500 in each count. William Leepe, 12 North Frederick Street, becoming his security.

1 November 1865 (Baltimore Sun) Civil Court - Judge Alexander - Moritz H. Weil vs the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore - bill to restrain defendant from issuing execution to enforce payment of any judgments of a justice of the peace; affirmed by the Criminal Court, against complainant for $20 fine and costs in each of two cases, for violation of an ordinance of the city relating to the keeping of bagatelle tables, until the determination of the law of the case by the court of Appeals. Hearing fixed for November 13th.

1 December 1865 (the Sun)

Circuit Court - Moriz H. Weils vs the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore

This was a bill for injunction to delay execution on two judgments of a justice of the peace of $20 each, against complainant for alleged violation of the ordinance to restrain gambling, which judgments are affirmed on appeal by the Circuit Court. The complainant sought a still forth appeal to the Court of Appeals, and tendered bond to stay execution, which was denied by the Criminal Court.

Notes from the Eastern Shore

by Bill Miller R-109

Tokens of the Newbridge, MD Cannery

"Newbridge" is a location in Caroline County on Maryland's Eastern Shore. It is on MD Rte. 328 about midway between Denton & Easton on Tuckahoe Creek. Originally called Horsey's Landing the name changed when the "New Wooden Bridge" was completed in 1897.

Between 1892-1955 Newbridge was home to a tomato cannery housing 5 different occupants: Jacob Andrew, Harry A. Roe, Draper & Slaughter, George H. Wilson, & Phillips Packing Co.

Jacob Andrews, the first owner, moved from American Corners where he had canned from 1888-1891. The location on the Tuckahoe gave Andrews a better transportation option, as Tuckahoe Creek emptied into the Choptank River. Andrews was in business from 1892-1897. There are no known tokens from this operation.

Andrews sold the property to H. A. Roe, a prominent Denton businessman who owned or leased several canneries on the Delmarva Peninsula. Roe operated the cannery from 1898-1906.

Both T.S. Slaughter & W.P. Draper had been supervisors at canneries owned by Roe before taking over the Newbridge cannery in 1909. Their tenure lasted 12 years, going bankrupt in 1920.

G.H. Wilson purchased the property & began canning in 1921. He had moved to Caroline County from Harford County as a cannery supervisor & gradually worked his way up to owner. He died in 1929.

The Phillips Packing Co. of Cambridge, MD bought the cannery from Wilson's estate. The Newbridge cannery would be one of 3 Phillips plants operating out of Caroline County (the other 2 being in West Denton & Williston). All 3 were purchased around the same time & had the advantage of being up-river from the main Cambridge facilities. The business lasted for 25 years, from 1930-1955.

It is worth noting that the Draper & Slaughter & G.H. Wilson tokens are self-identified as being from 'Denton, MD'. Denton was the local post office address & both had offices there, while the Phillips tokens carry the 'Newbridge' location. The Roe tokens have no location & could have been used at any of Roe's canneries.

By the 1950s the tomato canning business in Caroline County was dying out & no one bothered to continue operations. Today, crossing the modern bridge one can see some old pilings & concrete slabs along the Caroline side of the Tuckahoe, the only visual evidence of the businesses that operated there for over 60 years.

Collecting U.S. Tokens: Challenges and Rewards PART 4

THE ROLL CALL OF THE STATES

Tokens have been issued in every state in the Union, Puerto Rico, and most territories before they achieved statehood. So wherever one lives, there is a specialty available in the tokens of one's own locality. Unfortunately, out of the vast sea of American tokens only a fraction have been catalogued, and for one fifth of the states nothing at all is available. For those states that have listings, no catalog is quite complete; I estimate that coverage ranges from close to 100% for romantic, heavily-studied places like Alaska and Puerto Rico to about 50% for a large state like Illinois. But this opportunity for original contribution to the study of American tokens is part of the appeal of the hobby, and many catalogers are working busily to remedy this deficiency.

Following is the Roll Call of the States, with the catalogs available for each of them:

In addition to these major categories, catalogs have been issued for a wide variety of narrow specialties such as Ku Klux Klan tokens, car wash tokens, telephone tokens, bimetallic tokens, prison money, automatic musical instrument tokens, play money, communion tokens, soap tokens, etc., etc. Be it little or big, there are plenty of opportunities to add to the literature of American tokens.

The Ann Arrundell County Historical Society (AACHS) has operated for over 50 years as a non-profit society for the preservation of the history of that area. Their collection of artifacts is held at the Benson-Hammond House that was built about 1820. The spelling of name for the society is correct. In 1850, the Maryland Colony was named for the wife of Lord Baltimore. She was named of Ann Arrundell.

NTCA IDENTIFIES TWO NEW BALTIMORE BUSINESS CARDS

by Ed Craig LM-22

When I received my latest copy of the NTCA publication "Talkin Tokens", I was pleasantly surprised to find an article: "PUNCHLINES: A Pair of Baltimore Discovery Pieces by Bill Groom". I was very excited and interested. It proved to be worth the read for sure and I wanted to share this with MD TAMS members. Mr. Groom showed pictures of two counter stamped coins which he says "don't look very appealing. Both coins are low grade, and their respective counterstamps are simply surnames. The lack of initials and other identifying clues suggest attribution is a seemingly impossible task."

Groom talks about his research process. He notes that neither of these maverick counter stamps was known to either Rulau or Brunk. He also notes that the fonts are only about 2mm in size, being relatively small in stature. He believed that with the small size of the stamp, it suggested that each stamp was likely applied to a small product. Very often, if we suspect a counter stamp to be from Baltimore, we go to the registry of silversmiths. Groom did this with no luck. He also checked watchmakers, cutlers, instrument makers, etc. Still no success.

He hit paydirt when he looked into Craig's Daguerreian Registry website. No relation to me whatsoever. He found both counter stamps there in this photography site. What a find. The two counter stamps were "Pollack" and "Whitehurst". Both were small, using the 2mm font. The stamps were small since they were used on relatively small picture frames. Groom shows both the coins and the picture frames from each merchant. The Pollack coin is a US Large cent from the 1800's and the Whitehurst coin is an Indian Head Cent. Groom's article shows both the business card coins and the pictures from each Baltimore merchant. We now have two new Baltimore, Maryland merchants (photographers) and their counter stamped business card coins. Groom goes on to say both coins were found in the Baltimore area as was one of the pictures. Apparently, as Groom states, many early photographers applied small surname stamps to their work, artist's signatures of sorts, punched into the brass frames. Obviously, these same stamps were used on coins to serve as merchant business cards.

Groom states that "Henry Pollock, born 1810 in Washington, D.C., first appeared in Baltimore about 1848. Between 1850 and 1867, his shop was located at 155 Baltimore Street. This period is most likely when the above baby photo was taken and the coin stamped. He exhibited a collection of his daguerreotypes at a NY exhibition in 1852. Henry continued working as a photographer in Baltimore into 1889; this, possibly being the year of his demise." Groom shows a framed picture of Robert E. Lee taken by Pollack in 1869.

Groom also tells us that "Jesse Harrison Whitehurst, 1819-75, was born in Princess Anne County, Virginia. He was reportedly trained in the daguerreotype process in 1843 in NY City. That same year, he opened his first photographic gallery in Norfolk, Virginia." By the 1850's, his business had expanded to more than eight locations. He was prolific in producing daguerreotype images. Groom says that based on an ad in The Daguerreian Journal in January 1851, it appears Baltimore was a primary location. In the years following, Jesse's galleries occupied many addresses along Baltimore Street in Baltimore City.

The National Token Collectors Association (NTCA) is a great source of hobby information. You may want to look into joining. I want to thank Mr. Bill Groom for his fantastic article and great research.
